

If a police officer asks to search your car or backpack, politely say: I do not consent to a search.
If the officer asks if you're hiding something:
I believe in my constitutional right to privacy,
and I do not consent to a search.

